More Good Than Bad in Life-

Bill Arp moralices in the Sunny South Tobe says folks are folks, and you can' mee'em any folkser. I was thinking wha ole says folks are filles, and you can't be 'em any folkser. I was whinking what ig little world every min hast of his own, existly every family man. There is not so che difference undow in the average of non-file. Of course there are more men or as descene big things and make a poise if get a reputation; but they are few and between a superard with the common run, I, after all it, in the hest ten, for it's most acting in nature. Folks are folks just and the superard with the property of the states. Tolks are folks just and the superard with a few parts of the states. Tolks are folks just and the file and it's shaped every flay, and my is notice like a kaledoucely with a new time at every turn, and it is turning all the or, but all there is an average of good and.
